Provenance : Gernay, Eifel region, Schaumberg an der Lahn

Formation : Rupbach Schiefer

Age : Lower Devonian (Upper Eifelian)

Details : If of the same species, this little rock contains internal mould of no less than a near-complete specimen (second image), the external mould of a ?complete thorax (also that second image), and the partly external and mostly internal mould of another thorax (third image)! Again sorry for the lesser quality of the images, conditions for photography were less than favorable on the day I made the pictures).
